

Energy Code for the State of South Dakota

Currently (as of Jan/2008), there is no mandatory State Energy Code for commercial applications in the State of South Dakota. Local jurisdictions have the option of specifying their own code.

The only State-wide restriction is that all state facilities are contractually required to be built to ASHRAE 90.1-1999. There are some local jurisdictions, including Huron, Lead and Sioux Falls, which have adopted 2003 IECC as the Standard for lighting controls applications.

It is advised that you consult your local jurisdiction in South Dakota for Energy Code compliance.
